

Erin is Founder + CEO of Summery, a technology company leveraging behavioral science and AI to activate stakeholder engagement and measure & assess organizational cultural alignment.

A former SVP with a global bank, Erin left her financial career to become a tech entrepreneur dedicated to helping others discover their own cultural values and gain personal and professional fulfillment. Erin has earned three academic degrees and is author of the Adventure Philanthropist book series. She has traveled to ~100 countries as she lives her values of giving back and helping others.

Speaking Topics: AI | Data Science | Entrepreneurship | Social Impact | Startups

Discover your Kindness and Thrive Personally + Professionally

Participating in social impact activities—volunteering, advocacy, donating—can help us be more engaged both at work and in our communities. We look at the science behind kindness and why authentic engagement matters so we can thrive.

AI4Good—Leveraging Prescriptive Analytics for Social Action

We look at how to use AI to measure and assess social impact engagement through NLP-led personalization. Included are snapshots of data analytics, the data-curation process, and case studies for nonprofits and corporate CSR programs.

Measuring Culture & Values: A Data Science Approach to Organizational Alignment

We leverage both behavioral science and AI to better understand the alignment between organizational culture and stakeholder values. With a cultural audit, professionals gain insights to recruit and retain a top-performing workforce.

“Erin’s presentation was engaging, entertaining and best of all she challenged our people to get involved in a way that best suits our skills and resources. Erin has a unique ability to deliver a professional yet totally personal story.”

—Chris Klug, Global Business Manager, Microsoft

“Erin spoke with polish and enthusiasm, inspiring a sold-out Commonwealth Club crowd with tales of her adventure philanthropy and the potential for their own.”

—George Dobbins, VP of Programs, Commonwealth Club of California

As seen in:

Our Social Impact Commitment

During our speaking engagements, we open The Kind Quiz to audiences and make a data-curated donation to a nonprofit organization that represents their collective values.